6-inch gun emplacement update

Slough Fort has undergone many updates over the years.

EWVS

In 1888, it was recommended that the casemates be closed at their front and the fort used as a base for moveable armament. The guns at the fort were thereby deemed obsolete and four new concrete emplacements were built with a 9-inch and a 6-inch gun to the East and West in 1891.

The 6-inch guns were then later deemed obsolete and around 1906, the eastern guns were stripped of their carriages. A new 9-inch gun position was built and the 6-inch gun position removed/buried. Two 9-inch guns were positioned now to the east and in 1907, the western positions were closed down.

In our quest to find more information about the buried aspects of the fort, a scaled drawing was superimposed over a drone picture of the eastern position. Using the scale of the drawing and known common points that still remain of the centre of the 9-inch gun position and set of steps, the buried location was determined to be found underneath the caravans on the other side of our boundary fence with Haven!

During the winter closure of the park, our landlords Haven generously supplied us with a new fence which was moved deeper into their land so the complete buried position is now on our side of the fence allowing complete access.

On discovering the site of the buried 6-inch eastern gun position, it looked like the capping had been broken off the top of the canopy.

Thanks to Mortly Landscaping for their generous donation of a man and digger, we were further able to access more of the gun position.

Original stencilling in good condition along with two ring bolts used to hold the gun in place were then discovered and the shell storage recesses were found to be only one shell deep with no doors attached.

The framework used to hold the telephone in place for communications was located along with timber recovered from the area on our drawings labelled as TR (now thought to represent the Telephone Recess). The timber was found to have stencilling on it which appears to spell Fuze Recess.

In addition, green pieces of concrete were found that were part of the camouflaged paintwork found on the gun canopy.

Slough Fort were very lucky to receive funding via three new grants just before the Christmas break from:

- Orchard Community Energy £3,000 to help with the landscaping at the front of the fort including new footpaths and hedgerows
- Swire Charitable Trust— £2,000 which is match funding for our HLF grant
- Revi-VE via Kent Community Foundation—£6,900 to help with core costs

We are extremely grateful to receive these monies as we wouldn't be able to progress the restoration project without this invaluable help. We are also now at the consultancy stage of our HLF grant.

Back in 1872, as part of the new line of defence along the River Thames, Slough Fort received seven guns for its armament!

This morning the City of London Brigade attended Divine Service at the quaint little parish church of St. James, notorious in days gone by, according to village gossip, as a retreat for a band of smugglers with which the island was infested. The service was conducted by the venerable vicar (the Rev. George Heaton, M.A.), who preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion.

A report from 140 years ago on 31 March 1883, also details how Colonel Hope, a rigid disciplinarian, marched 50 of his men from Grain Fort to Slough Fort on Good Friday evening. It also describes Slough Fort as a massive stone structure.

The Guard rooms have now had a full makeover with painting, lime plastering on the ceiling, lime washing on the walls and the floors now stained throughout ready for the new tourist season.

While looking for the road, we discovered on the track to the fort, a cobbled area with evidence of curved metal runners that would have taken the wheel of a gate, possibly for a guarded vehicle. A drawing has also revealed that there could be a third gateway to the left which may be a pedestrian entrance but at present it is still buried a few feet down.

A hidden wall was also found near the Western battery.

These two areas have been covered back up and we have sought Scheduled Monument Consent to excavate the 2 areas more.

Slough Fort's AGM was held on Saturday 11th February 2023 which was very successful, whereby the achievements of the past year were discussed and new ideas for the year ahead put forward. Thankyou to all those who attended.

Unfortunately, we have had to say goodbye to two of our valued trustees— Kian and Catharina but luckily, they will remain with us as volunteers.

We would also like to warmly welcome our new trustee Carol Cook who has joined our trustee team and will be an asset to the team.

Colin continues as Chair of the Trust, with Keith and Daune respectively continuing in their roles of Deputy Chair and Secretary/Treasurer.

Updates included the news that Slough Fort is now at Stage 2 of the HLF grant application. Drawings have been made for the project including a café within two casemates, the installation of male and female toilets, returning the eastern magazine to its formal status and a heritage museum. Much work going on behind the scenes during the year to obtain the various permissions required and get everything ready for a submission in March 2024.

Alex Dunne from Bourne Leisure kindly gave a presentation on the developments at the holiday park and ways in which Haven were supporting the fort including the new fences and movement of the boundary, hosting of Laser Tag in the magazine 4 times a week, promotion of the fort on new screens in the entertainment area and the provision of first aid training for trustees and volunteers.
